INDEPENDENT STATE OF PAPUA NEW GUINEA*PROPOSED LAW TO ALTER THE ORGANIC LAW ON PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT

entitled

Organic Law on Provincial Government (Elections) Law

being

A Law to amend the Organic Law on Provincial Government.

MADE by the National Parliament to come into operation in accordance with a notice in the National Gazette by the Head of State, acting with, and in accordance with, the advice of the Minister.

1. PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURES (AMENDMENT OF SECTION 16).

Section 16 of the Organic Law on Provincial Government is amended by adding the following new subsections:—

"(6) The elected members of a provincial legislature shall be elected at a general election held in accordance with Section 126(9) (elections) of the Constitution or from time to time at a by-election as the need arises.

"(7) The provisions of any constitution for a province which are inconsistent with the provisions of Subsection (6) are, to the extent of the inconsistency, hereby amended to comply with the provisions of Subsection (6)."

2. REPEAL OF SECTION 113.

Section 113 of the Organic Law on Provincial Government is repealed.

Proposed Law to Alter the Organic Law on Provincial Government—continued*3. TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS.

(1) In this section—

“the first general election” means the first general election to the Parliament and to provincial legislatures to be held after the coming into operation of this Law;

“the relevant period” means the period between the date of the coming into operation of this Law and the first general election;

“this law” means the Organic Law on Provincial Government (Elections) Law.

(2) After the date of the coming into operation of this Law, the next general election of members of the provincial legislature for each province shall be the first general election, notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in the constitution for any province.

(3) Where, in accordance with the provisions of the constitution for a province, a general election of members of the provincial legislature for the province falls to be held during the relevant period, such general election shall be deferred until the first general election, and members of the provincial legislature holding office as at the date of the coming into operation of this Law shall, subject to their not being otherwise disqualified from holding such office under the constitution for the province or a Constitutional Law, continue to hold office until in relation to the first general election, they would otherwise have held office in relation to a general election of members of the provincial legislature.

(4) Subject to Subsection (5), where in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution for a Province, a by-election of a member of the provincial legislature falls to be held during the relevant period, such by-election shall not be held and the vacancy shall not be filled until the first general election.

(5) The provisions of Subsections (3) and (4) apply, notwithstanding that, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution for a province, a writ for a general election to which Subsection (3) applies or for a by-election to which Subsection (4) applies has been prior to the coming into operation of this Law.

(6) Where, as a result of the operation of Subsection (4), the number of offices of elected members remaining filled in a provincial legislature during the relevant period is less than the quorum for that provincial legislature, by-election shall be held to fill the vacancies and the members elected at such by-election shall hold office until, in relation to the first general election, they would otherwise have held office in relation to the next general election of members of the provincial legislature.

(7) The Constitution for each province is hereby amended to the extent necessary to enable the provisions of this Law to take effect.
